The Saints of God: Holy Women, Holy Men published for trial use

I sing a song of the saints of God, patient and brave and true
... and one was a doctor and one was a queen, and one was a shepherdess on the green...

—Hymn 293, Hymnal 1982

Holy Women, Holy Men: Celebrating the Saints, the new book of commemorations on the Episcopal Church calendar (succeeding Lesser Feasts and Fasts), does include doctors and queens, as well as deacons, nuns, priests, bishops, writers, kings, apostles, missionaries, hymn-makers, soldiers, monks, artists, composers, mystics, jurists, liberators, prophets and even an Olympic champion (and missionary to China). The shepherdess on the green may be harder to find, but certainly pastors abound in this representation of the communion of saints.

Some 10 years ago, Frank T. Griswold, then-presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, asked the Standing Commission on Liturgy and Music “to undertake a review and revision of Lesser Feasts and Fasts, and to consider anew each entry in the existing Calendar of Saints, alongside any proposed new commemorations,” he wrote in the foreword to Holy Women, Holy Men. It is the first complete revision of Lesser Feasts and Fasts in more than 40 years. The book was published in 2010 by Church Publishing Inc.

More than 100 new commemorations were approved at the 2009 General Convention,” SCLM notes on its website, http://liturgyandmusic.wordpress.com. “Nine years in the making, the new volume offers a fuller representation of the diversity of the Episcopal Church as well as a broader ecumenical and international mix of commemorations. While a significant number are from the most recent centuries, the additions include saints from every period of church history.

“The 2009 General Convention called for trial use of these commemorations, giving opportunity to pray with this new material before a final decision about whether to add each commemoration to the calendar of The Book of Common Prayer.

“We invite you to join us in this prayer each day, whether by worshiping with a congregation or by including the commemoration in your personal devotion,” SCLM continues. “Then tell us about your experience. How did this person's life witness to the Gospel? How does this person inspire us in Christian life today? How well does the collect gather the prayers of the assembly and pray about the significance of the person? How well do these lessons speak to the life of this saint?”

We want to hear about people’s experiences with Holy Women, Holy Men,” says the Rev. Ruth Meyers, professor of liturgics at Church Divinity School of the Pacific and chair of SCLM. “It’s important that everyone have an opportunity to review and provide input on this major work. That includes individuals as well as congregations and dioceses.”

An online survey to assist in gathering feedback became available on July 1 and will close on June 30, 2011. After compiling the data from the survey, SCLM will prepare a comprehensive report for the 77th General Convention, meeting in 2012 in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Copies of Holy Women, Holy Men are available from Church Publishing (visit www.churchpublishing.org) or from Episcopal Books and Resources (located at the Episcopal Church Center, or online at www.episcopalbookstore.org) and other Episcopal bookstores.
